

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

One copy, one year..... $1.50
 One copy, six months..... .75
 One copy, four months..... .50
 No deduction from these rates under any circumstances.

As we are compelled by law to pay postage in advance on papers sent outside of Ohio County, we are forced to require payment on subscriptions in advance.

All letters on business must be addressed to BARRIETT & SUTTON, Publishers.

DIRECTORY.

COUNTY DIRECTORY.

Circuit Court.
 Hon. Lucas P. Little, Judge, Owensboro.
 Hon. Joseph S. Adams, Judge, Calhoun.
 Hon. J. L. Sullivan, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.

Circuit Court.

Hon. Newton, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.

Quarterly Court.

Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.

Court of Claims.

Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.

Other County Officers.

Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.

Justices of the Peace.

Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.

Constables.

Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.

Church Directory.

Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.

Lodge Meetings.

Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.

Post-Office Bulletin.

Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.

Professional Cards.

Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.

Attorney at Law.

Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.

Attorney at Law.

Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.

Attorney at Law.

Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.

Attorney at Law.

Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.

Attorney at Law.

Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.

Attorney at Law.

Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.

Attorney at Law.

Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.

Attorney at Law.

Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.

Attorney at Law.

Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.

Attorney at Law.

Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. P. Barrett, Judge, Hartsville.
 Hon. J. L. Smith, Judge, Hartsville.

THE HARTFORD HERALD.

"I COME, THE HERALD OF NOISY WORLD, THE NEWS OF ALL NATIONS LUNGERING AT MY BACK"

VOL. 8.

HARTFORD, KENTUCKY, MAY 17, 1882.

NO. 20.

ADVERTISING RATES.

Square	1 Week	2 Weeks	1 Month	3 Months	6 Months	1 Year
One	1 00	1 50	2 00	5 00	7 50	10 00
Two	1 75	2 50	3 00	7 50	10 00	13 00
Three	2 50	3 50	4 00	10 00	13 00	16 00
Four	3 00	4 00	4 50	11 00	14 00	17 00
Five	3 50	4 50	5 00	12 00	15 00	18 00
Six	4 00	5 00	5 50	13 00	16 00	19 00
Seven	4 50	5 50	6 00	14 00	17 00	20 00
Eight	5 00	6 00	6 50	15 00	18 00	21 00
Nine	5 50	6 50	7 00	16 00	19 00	22 00
Ten	6 00	7 00	7 50	17 00	20 00	23 00

For a shorter time, at proportionate rates.
 One inch of space constitutes a square.

Death of W. H. Eison.

DEDICATED TO HIS MOST EXCELLENT MOTHER.

But yesterday, full of life, hope, energy, today, cold, lifeless, dead! The countless ages that shall onward roll, with wake him not. Woe, sorrow, pain, grief, disease, sorrow, and death may gather over, and about his grave, but all a moment of time, he will sleep on, quietly on, stricken down in the springtime of life. Kind Providence permitted him to go, amid the song of birds, the coming flowers, and the gentle rustle of green foliage. To earth he has indeed departed, except as he shall live in the fond recollection of relatives and friends. Cherish your mother, then, and a few fleeting years at most, and then will be called to take up his abode. With this little family, now gathered on the banks of the beautiful river, where the noble hearts will never again be torn, at the bosom of earth, that when they Earthly friends one by one will meet thee.

Geo. C. WELDON.
 HARTFORD, May 9th, 1882.

"My Little Bill"

I wish through your kindness and the indulgence of the readers of your paper, to correct some statements made by "W. C. C." in his article headed "Fit for Tat," in which he indulges in some of his "pleasantries." His first intimation, for he makes no charge against me except by implication, is that I was in favor of the Atlanta visit. He says: "These holidays were, no doubt, very enjoyable to those who participated in them, but not quite so pleasant to those who have to pay the expenses. But if my critics were not deservingly, why did not 'J. S. W.' as the Legislature, or as its representative, vindicate it, and show where in the Legislature was justifiable in thus using the people's money?" Now, I am not set for the defense of the Legislature, neither do I propose to "render an account for the deeds done in the body," but I am ready to give an account of my own stewardship. And surely Mr. C. would not have me justify an act that my vote stands recorded against, as it does in the above instance. Yet in calling upon me to defend the Legislature, he says: "That would have been meeting the issue I had raised in a mainly way and saved him the trouble of scratching among the debris for my little local bill, which had not been mentioned, or even hinted at." If Mr. C. had made his charges in a mainly way I could have answered in a specific manner, but since he has seen fit to indulge in "pleasantries" and insinuations I thought best to give him "Fit for Tat." Now, some of the whole truth. Mr. C. is a little sore because I did not assist him to pass his "little bill" without its being properly ventilated before the committee. I have abundant facts to prove that Mr. C.'s main object was to press the matter through before the opposition could be heard. Mr. C.'s statements of fairness and patience to the contrary notwithstanding. Let us see, he says: "To enable those who wish to arrive at a correct understanding of the above, I will make a tolerably full statement. Both 'J. S. W.' and the other side, as he terms it, knew what we were intending to do before I left Hartford. When I arrived in Frankfort on Tuesday some of the opposing party were there, and had placed the remonstrance of the town trustees in 'J. S. W.'s hands the day previous to my arrival. I immediately let our representatives know my business, but told them I was in no hurry and would give them ample time to hear what the other party might say." Now this is wide of the mark in several respects. It is true that the friends of the school had placed in my hands a remonstrance of the town trustees, to which, from some oversight they had failed to affix their signatures, and when I called attention to the fact it was agreed that I should hold the matter up until they could send up a certified copy, together with a petition and other facts they wished to submit. And when Mr. C. asked me if I could not have a special meeting of the committee for his special benefit, stating that he could remain but a short time in Frankfort, and that he desired a hearing at once, I informed him of the above facts. To which Mr. C. stated he had informed the opposition, both through the Herald and personally, of his intentions at least three weeks before he left Hartford, and if they intended to have a remonstrance they could have had it on time, that they were only intending to wear him out with delay, and to keep him here on expenses would not be treating him fairly. It was at this time that I stated to Mr. C. that I had no personal interest or preference in the matter, but only wished that both sides be fairly laid before the committee, but if he insisted on pressing the matter to a hearing before the remonstrance and petitions could reach us I would be compelled to oppose his bill. Mr. C. then agreed to wait until the next Tuesday. But notice how he writes when he says: "I remained quiet until the following Monday, then asked 'J. S. W.' if the next day, Tuesday, would be long enough to wait. He said he thought it would be giving them ample time, so we fixed upon that day to go before the committee. The time arrived and he received nothing but a request to leave off action until they could be heard from. You remained very quiet did you? You kept your promise to meet the House Committee did you? Not a bit of it! You were just as busy as among Senators until you found sufficient favor to warrant you in turning your back upon the House Committee and laying the matter before the Senate Judiciary Committee. Why did you not lay the matter before the committee on Education, to which committee it properly belongs? But the most glaring perversion of facts are contained in the following statements: "That little bill contained nothing but the essence of pure Democracy, unadorned by modern Democratic ideas, and will come around all right sooner or later. This idea that has found a lodgment in the brain of some Democrats (so-called) that the Legislature has a right to levy a tax for local purposes without submitting it to a vote of the people interested, is a spurious, bastard doctrine, that must and will be purged out of the party." "That was just what was asked for in that little bill, let the people vote and if my friend, 'J. S. W.' was willing that they should have the privilege of doing so, he had not the manly courage to stand in his place as their representative and say so." Now the fact is Mr. C.'s bill did not submit the matter to a vote, I have the original bill, as offered by Mr. C. in my possession, and there is not one word in it about submitting to a vote, but an amendment to that effect was suggested by myself, and offered by Senator Poole. Mr. C. objected to the amendment, saying that he would prefer to have the bill pass without the amendment, that with the amendment it was not what he wanted, but when Senator Poole informed him that unless he would submit to the amendment he would oppose the passage of the bill through the Senate, but if he would allow the amendment he would support it, Mr. C. hesitated, but finally consented, and this is how Senator Poole came to support the bill, and how the "Democratic" idea, of which Mr. C. boasts, was forced into his bill over his opposition by a Republican Senator. Again he says: "In obedience to their request the committee adjourned two days and requested 'J. S. W.' to notify the other side by telegram the time of meeting and request them to be on hand. I raised no objections to the proceedings; 'J. S. W.'s statement of a disagreement to the contrary notwithstanding. One of the opposing party was in Frankfort at the time, and was notified of the proceedings by 'J. S. W.' and others. Yet when the day arrived we had nothing from them, except, perhaps an additional order to hold on. Then it was that I told my friend if he did not give his consent I would insist upon its passage over his head, which I did reluctantly do, and the committee decided that ample time and notice had been given, and they recommended the passage of the three bills." Now I re-assert that Mr. C. did object to this delay as he had done before, stating the object was to wear him out with delay, and in order to save time it was agreed that we should telegraph the friends of the school, but before doing so we learned that Mr. McHenry was in the city, and after consulting with him it was agreed to let the bill pass the Senate, and by the time it could reach the House the remonstrance would be on hand. He says: "In view of the above facts it is hard for me to understand how 'J. S. W.' could have the cheek to make so labored an effort to produce the impression that I had sought, and would have placed a higher estimate upon their privilege. In speaking of the moral obligation that we are under to educate them by taxation I said: "When this obligation is complied with, to the extent of a practical education the obligation and the right to tax ceases. They are then qualified as far as education is concerned, for useful, intelligent and prosperous citizens, and to attempt more is a usurpation and abuse of power. Surely further comment is unnecessary to establish my advocacy of education. Now we come to the main point of controversy. You say ignorance and crime go hand in hand. Crime is reduced in proportion as you give the people a practical education." In your rejoinder, you reassert in this language, "Where ignorance abounds, crime doth also abound, but where the influence of practical education is felt, the twins, ignorance and crime are dispelled." This is the proposition, I challenged and propose to hold you to it. In reply to it I said: "Education as commonly used only qualifies a person for the various pursuits of life whether they be good, or evil. If honest, it enables them to be more prosperous and useful members of society, if dishonest, it prepares them for a more successful life of consummate villainy. "Whether book literature has an elevating or debasing influence depends very much upon the nature of the literature, and the manner in which it is impressed upon the mind." Just here you seem to feel the weight of my argument, and in your rejoinder you jump in ahead of me, and attempt to take track from me, by saying: "By this we mean a right education." I said: "Come now, we'll have no jockeying in this matter. A right education is my position clearly shown by the following fact: This is an uncontrollable fact that is lamentably overlooked by too many parents and educators. Hence crime in all its heinous forms is stalking abroad and permeating every grade of society from the highest to the lowest. Just here I want to make a point, by saying that the present system of education is defective in a moral point of view.

Unlike Mr. C. I make the above statements without any reserve or regrets, as I can substantiate every statement made. And I will say for the benefit of Mr. C. that I have read the above statements which I have made to Senator Poole, and he endorses every one of them as being substantially true. Now, in dismissing this subject in which the general public can have no interest, I wish to say that I am willing to throw the mantle of charity around my venerable friend, as he is now in his dotage, and liable to forget, mistake and misrepresent facts without any intention of doing so. I have many other facts that would throw light upon this subject, but I have trespassed too much already upon your space and the patience of your readers.

J. S. W.

Don't Die in the House.

Ask druggists for "Rough on Rats," it clears out rats, mice, bedbugs, roaches, vermin, flies, ants, insects. 15c. per box.

Education Again.

Editor Herald:

In taking issue with your proposition, that crime is reduced in proportion as you give the people a practical education, I was well aware that I was dissenting from a theory endorsed by many advocates of popular education, and did not expect you to abandon it until you gave the subject a more serious and careful investigation than you seem to have done. So I hope you may not plant yourself unalterably upon the proposition until you have given it a little more thought.

We had as well be consistent in discussing the school question as any other subject. Arguments based upon facts in the discussion of any subject, are much more potent than those based upon hastily drawn conclusions, as I certainly believe your theory to be. If my position would stand the test of a scrutinizing investigation, I am willing that it shall go for naught, but I am unwilling to have my arguments distorted so as to make me say just the opposite of what I do say, nor am I willing for you to jump in ahead of me and take my track from me. No sentence in my article will make me, under a fair construction of the language used, utter even a semblance of opposition to education. Any careful reader must see that it favors education from beginning to end, and no where is it assumed as intimated that it makes men dishonest. It simply opposes the commonly received idea that education makes men dishonest. Let us see just what I did say about the importance of education. In advocating the education of the colored race, I accept your proposition that we must accept the situation as we find it, and the best thing that we can do to educate them. In commenting upon it I said: "In a republic like ours, all citizens should be educated sufficiently to appreciate and properly understand the right of suffrage." In following up the line of argument, I said that it was like placing the cart before the horse to give them the right of franchise before they were educated and taught the true value of citizenship, and the importance of exercising it properly. They should have been educated first, then they would have placed a higher estimate upon their privilege.

In speaking of the moral obligation that we are under to educate them by taxation I said: "When this obligation is complied with, to the extent of a practical education the obligation and the right to tax ceases. They are then qualified as far as education is concerned, for useful, intelligent and prosperous citizens, and to attempt more is a usurpation and abuse of power. Surely further comment is unnecessary to establish my advocacy of education. Now we come to the main point of controversy. You say ignorance and crime go hand in hand. Crime is reduced in proportion as you give the people a practical education." In your rejoinder, you reassert in this language, "Where ignorance abounds, crime doth also abound, but where the influence of practical education is felt, the twins, ignorance and crime are dispelled." This is the proposition, I challenged and propose to hold you to it.

In reply to it I said: "Education as commonly used only qualifies a person for the various pursuits of life whether they be good, or evil. If honest, it enables them to be more prosperous and useful members of society, if dishonest, it prepares them for a more successful life of consummate villainy. "Whether book literature has an elevating or debasing influence depends very much upon the nature of the literature, and the manner in which it is impressed upon the mind." Just here you seem to feel the weight of my argument, and in your rejoinder you jump in ahead of me, and attempt to take track from me, by saying: "By this we mean a right education." I said: "Come now, we'll have no jockeying in this matter. A right education is my position clearly shown by the following fact: This is an uncontrollable fact that is lamentably overlooked by too many parents and educators. Hence crime in all its heinous forms is stalking abroad and permeating every grade of society from the highest to the lowest. Just here I want to make a point, by saying that the present system of education is defective in a moral point of view.

The bible is excluded, moral and religious training are neglected, and all the finer and nobler principles of right and morality go uneducated. Hence it too frequently happens that our boys, while at college imbibing little vices and immoral practices that grow with their growth, and sometimes lead to crime in their manhood. Hence it is, that crime is found to exist among the educated as well as among the uneducated classes. But I made the further charge that the greater amount of crime was found among the educated classes. Especially is it true when we take their enormity into the account. Here, you seem to become horrified and exclaim, if "W. C. C." is correct, better have no schools at all, better have a law, making it a felony to educate a child. If there is more vice and crime among those receiving a practical education than among the ignorant, then let's away with education. I didn't say those receiving a practical education. I said among the educated classes which includes all who are educated. Which charge I feel abundantly able to sustain.

Just here I will give out another proposition. I believe there is more true honesty, fidelity, and virtue, and less crime among those of barely a practical education than any other class of society. Following out your criticism you say, "Carrying out his views they are much apter to be criminals, than if left in ignorance." I said nothing that conveys such an idea. But I said, "Tell me not that education in the common acceptance of the term banishes crime." No, crime is overcome by the fear of punishment, or an innate or engrafted principle, implanted in the mind and heart, sufficiently strong to resist and overcome temptation to crime.

This principle eschews evil and seeks to do right, and when assisted by education, a successful useful and happy life is much easier attained; just as the vicious temperament is assisted by education in leading a more successful life of debauchery, deception and crime. And I said also that the greater amount of crime is found among the educated classes.

To be convinced of the correctness of this statement seems to me to require only a candid and unbiased review of the statistics of crime. We will see at a glance that nearly all the crimes of magnitude are committed by educated parties, such as murders, assassinations, forgeries, embezzlement, counterfeiting, swindling to the amount of millions upon millions of dollars by organized rings, monopolies and corporations. Fraudulent contracts such as the Whisky Ring, start-rotate contract, Tweed ring and others too numerous to mention. The frauds committed by government officials in the various departments, which have swindled the people out of untold millions of hard earned money, all by the educated. Then we may turn to the long list of wars with their catalogue of misery, suffering, and wholesale butchery of human beings. All wars that are not defensive are criminal, and all originate and are conducted by the educated. All assassinations of any importance of which history, gives any account as well as religious intolerance persecution and martyrdom have been procured or brought about by the educated.

Infidelity too, which is impotent without education, comes in with its long list of entailed misery and crime. In fact it lays at the root of nearly all crimes. I can hardly see how anyone can commit a willful and vicious crime of much magnitude, who believes in future rewards and punishments.

When we come to sum it all up it makes a huge mass in point of enormity in comparison to which the crimes committed by the uneducated sink into nothingness. Again you say, "It costs less to educate than to punish for crime, resulting from ignorance, as a matter of proper education, and as a matter of economy, alone we would favor good schools." This point would be well taken, if it were true as you assume that education dispels crime. But what is fatal to your assumption is the fact that the enormous cost of punishing crime is always found to be among the educated. It may be as you say, for want of a proper education, and that only strengthens my position taken at the outset. My observation is that very little money is expended in the conviction and punishment of the ignorant.

But when we look at the enormous sums spent in punishing and trying to punish the educated for their countless crimes of murder, assassination, forgery, embezzlement, fraud and theft, that we have just been enumerating the heart sickens and turns to the thought.

But we may admit that it costs more to punish crime resulting from ignorance than to educate them, and it proves but little, for every candid man is bound to admit that most of our prosecutions cost double, or treble, and in many cases five times as much as is necessary, all of which unnecessary and extra cost is brought about by those who are educated.

W. C. C.

All True.

The Hartford Herald calls upon Hon. E. Dudley Walker, of Hartford, to make the race for Congress in the Fourth District. Col. Walker is a sound Democrat, an able lawyer and a courteous gentleman, and would make the District an excellent Congressman.

—South Kentuckian.

Report of Pleasant Ridge School for the Month of April.
 100 STUDENTS PERFECT.
 Kate Rhodes, 98; Clemmie Hewlett, 98; Ollie May, 98; Carrie Smith, 98; Sue Hunter, 98; Lullie Coats, 98; Ora Hunter, 98; Matilda Smith, 98; Sue Yeiser, 98; Bettie Hewlett, 98; Annie Hunter, 98; Annie Boyd, 98; Lullie Myles, 98; Ella Hunter, 98; Clemmie Boyd, 98; Addie Lucas, 98; Albert Yeiser, 98; Robert Troglan, 98; Lonnie Bennett, 98; Eva Westerfield, 98.
 FANNIE WESTERFIELD, Teacher.

Report of the Cromwell School.

Pearl Shull, 74; Eddie Montague, 84; Willie Montague, 95; Freddie Daniel, 95; Rice Paxton, 10; Bobbie Daniel, 28; Annie Daniel, 4; Estill Daniel, 5; Florence Daniel, 8; Gertrude Kahn, 4; Jessie Paxton, 9; Maud Tilford, 94; Annie Cooper, 4; "Man" Tilford, 3; Tommie Borah, 6; Edie Kahn, 5; Belle Wise, 4; Ned Harper, 4.
 ALBERTA MURPHY, Teacher.

Rosine Ripples.

ROSDALE, KY., May 8th, 1882.

Mr. Willie Curley of Louisville spent several days in Rosine last week having been called here on account of his sister Miss Nellie Curley, who is very low with typhoid fever.

Mr. and Mrs. Walker Daniel are visiting their daughter, Mrs. S. Ragland of this place. Uncle Walker is in his 70th year, and Minnie his wife is in her 77th year, they are in good health for people of their age.

Willie Lewis is in Elizabethtown. Last Saturday was our election day. The result was electing Prof. D. M. Hocker for Judge, and William Galloway for Marshal.

Col. Duncan and Ed. Green of Louisville, spent Saturday and Sunday in Rosine.

We have one young man in town who claims to be 3 times 7.
 Success to the HERALD.
 J. J. TILFORD.

THE HERALD.

J. N. P. BARRETT,
CICERO T. SUTTON, JR.

EDITORS

WEDNESDAY, MAY 17, 1882

Democratic Ticket.

FOR CLERK COURT OF APPEALS

FOR COUNTY JUDGE
C. W. MASSIE.

FOR COUNTY CLERK
THOMAS J. SMITH.

FOR COUNTY ATTORNEY
HERBERT B. KINSOLVING.

FOR SHERIFF
THOMAS S. TAYLOR.

FOR JAILER
JOHN MIDKIFF.

FOR ASSESSOR
JOHN W. MOSELEY.

FOR SURVEYOR
ELIJAH P. BARNETT.

FOR CORONER
THOMAS H. BOSWELL.

Republican Ticket.

COUNTY JUDGE
CAPT. DAVID DUNCAN.

COUNTY CLERK
L. T. COX.

COUNTY ATTORNEY
C. M. PENDLETON.

FOR SHERIFF
D. L. SMITH.

ASSASSIN
THOMAS R. BISHOP.

JAILER
CALVIN P. KEOWN.

SURVEYOR
SMITH FITZHUGH.

CORONER
REAS CHAPMAN.

The Greenbackers, of Grayson co., will meet in convention in Litchfield next Monday.

JOHN B. GOWAN has been appointed postmaster at Hopkinsville, Ky. Succeeds Mrs. Burbridge.

The prohibition Executive Committee of this State has nominated Hon. Alex. Lusk of Rockcastle county for Clerk of the Court of Appeals.

It would be wiser to sacrifice Capt. Henry than to sacrifice the Democratic party. Cast him overboard and save the ship.—Bourling Green Democrat.

If any of our friends desire to write to the "So called" Democratic nominee for Clerk of the Court of Appeals, they should address the letter thus: "Captain Thomas Jefferson Bolter, Henry, Salt River, Ky." A letter thus addressed will reach him sooner or later.

We learn that Rev. B. F. Orr, of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, and Rev. Wm. Dawson, of the United Baptist church, are to have a debate at Lexington, Daviess county, Ky., sometime next July upon the mode of baptism and other doctrinal differences of their churches.

JUDGE G. W. WILLIAMS, of Owensboro, one of the many candidates for Judge of the Superior Court, in this the first Judicial District, visited our town last Monday. Judge Williams is a genial and pleasant gentleman, and wins friends wherever he goes.—Litchfield Sunbeam.

THERE are just 100 Democratic papers (including the Independent Democratic), published in the State. Just one fourth, (twenty five) of these refuse to support Capt. Henry. Now, if one fourth of the party is thus dissatisfied, (and the percentage is unquestionably greater) it will cut Henry's vote down so low as to make his election very uncertain.

The Courier-Journal, speaking of King's statement, with reference to the Henry matter, said that "King was not only a thorough and consistent Democrat, but a gentleman whose veracity could not be questioned." When Mr. King makes an affidavit, however, and gives the case whole, the Courier-Journal says, "We denounce it as a Radical lie," and Rag, Tag and Bob Tail throughout the State yelp "me too."—Bourling Green Democrat.

HON. E. D. WALKER is receiving encouragement in his Congressional aspirations wherever he goes. At Lebanon last Thursday night he had a large audience and made an excellent impression, being warmly and almost universally congratulated, and the positions taken by him very generally endorsed by his hearers. His speeches at Elizabethtown and Hendersonville were also well received and very generally endorsed. Mr. Walker is the coming man, and will make one of the ablest guardians of the people's interest that ever held a seat in Congress.

JUDGE G. W. WILLIAMS, candidate for Superior Court Judge, is abroad in the district. His personal worth and broad culture as a jurist will commend him to a kindly reception and favorable consideration at the hands of the bar and the people. The age of the fiery passions is past, and his legal attainments, chastened by age, reflection and meditation, will find ample and wise scope and verge on the Judicial bench, which would enable him, fittingly and gracefully, to retire from the honor and labor of an active law practice.—Owensboro Post.

"TOM" HENRY has been troubled. He has now another peck. His trouble has been doubled since its known he bolted Beck.

THE Stalwart's beat the Half-breeds in the Pennsylvania Republican Convention last week, and a Don Cameron Ring ticket was nominated.

KNOW thyself may be a very good proverb, but there are some people who know of that would be know-nothings if that was all they knew.

WHAT is the difference between a man suffering with a bone-felon and the keeper of the State penitentiary? One has a felon on his hand, the other has several felons on hand.

HON. JOHN W. CALDWELL, of Logan county, in a card to the Russellville Herald-Enterprise, declines to become a candidate for re-election to Congress. He has served three terms.

MARIONISM is waning in Virginia. The colored Republicans of that State will hold a convention June 27th, to organize a simon pure Republican party, and repudiate Mahone and the Read-justers.

WE understand that a letter numerously signed by Democrats of Ohio county has been forwarded to Capt. Henry, asking him to be here next Monday to meet Col. Jacob, who is advertised to speak here on that day.

THE best evidence that Mr. Walker's speeches contain some unpleasant truths, is evinced by the fact that the Republican monkey is beginning to squeal. One of the said tribe at Lebanon squealed through the Commercial last Saturday.

THE candidacy of Hon. E. Dudley Walker is attracting attention and calling out favorable comment from newspapers, politicians and public men all over the district, and better still, his candidacy is making an excellent impression on the masses of the voters of the district wherever he has been heard or his candidacy discussed. Walker is the right man for the place, and if he is elected, no man will ever regret having been his supporter.

NEXT Monday will be a big day in town. It is the first day of Circuit Court. Col. Jacob and Col. McHenry have appointments to speak here that day. We also understand that Capt. T. J. Henry has been invited, and hope he will be on hand as we always like to hear both sides of a question. No doubt the voters of the county will be out en masse and hear the contending candidates, and can then judge for themselves.

JEFF. VANOVER, of Daviess county, has been pardoned by the Governor, and in an interview with the reporter of the Owensboro Post, he tells quite a different story from that other fellow about Warden Stone, exonerating him entirely from the charge of cruelty to prisoners. One of the editors of this paper has known Captain Stone well and favorably for many years, and does not believe it possible for him to be so cruel as reported by one of the convicts.

THE chemist (whatever that is) self-concocted, college bred, simple minded youth, that tries to edit the Echo, is informed that we have back bone and common sense enough to attend to our own business, and conduct it on common sense principles. We have advertising space to sell for any legitimate purposes, and such we conclude the non-sensical and impractical or publishing their tickets to be, and in this way was the Republican ticket of our county inserted, and so announced at the time and as the said chemist young man gets the HERALD as an exchange, it is exceedingly strange he did not see it.

WE this week have the pleasure of announcing Hon. E. Dudley Walker, of Hartsville, candidate for Congress in this the Fourth Congressional District. Mr. Walker has been a member of the Litchfield Bar for several years, has been a candidate for Congress in every particular, and made a deep impression upon the citizens of the county. Mr. Walker is a man of unimpeachable and inflexible character, and if elected will doubtless make us a model representative. He will no doubt carry this county.—Rodden in Litchfield Sunbeam.

IN an able and impressive manner, Hon. E. Dudley Walker, of Hartsville, Ohio county, candidate of this Congressional district, addressed a large number of persons at the court house today in an able and impressive manner, discussing the political issues of the times. If Knott does not enter the field he will doubtless carry the county by a large majority.—Elizabethtown Correspondence Courier-Journal.

Henry's History.

Col. Wallace Gruelle edited a paper for many years at Mt. Sterling, Ky., which is in the region of country where Capt. Henry lives, and is acquainted and familiar with Capt. Henry's history. In the News of last week he talks editorially as follows:

Capt. Henry is a man addicted to drunkenness and its kindred vices. His pluck of abstinence for the future is shown by the paper it is written upon the fact that, on three several occasions in the past, when an aspirant for position, he gave precisely the same thing to those whose votes and kind offices he desired, only to violate it after he had accomplished his object. He was, to start with, a confirmed drunkard. As an inducement to reformation, his friends, on his solemn assurance, "So help me God," that he would never again touch a drop of intoxicating liquor, made him Clerk of the Morgan Circuit Court. He behaved himself and attended industriously to the duties of his office during the first years of his term, and then relapsed into his old habits. Of course, under such circumstances, his reformation was not to be thought of. Under the persuasion of friends he agreed "to be reformed" and "reformed" until he was attacked with a desire to go to the Legislature. Here his "So help me God" pledge came into play again, and he was elected, only to suffer another relapse on his arrival at Frankfort, and to continue relapsing during almost the entire session. This pleases and relapsing and becoming notorious to the good people of Morgan, and his only hope for office lay outside of that county. Mat Adams was Clerk of the National House of Representatives, and to him he made application—accompanied by the everlasting "So help me God" pledge—for a position. Mat accepted of his request, and gave him a sub-clerkship, and here again he behaved himself for some time, but the inevitable relapse came and he had to give up the position. As we said last week, he has given us a taste of his quality as a candidate. A tree must be judged by its fruits, and the fruits of Capt. Henry's life clearly prove that he is incapable of keeping a pledge of total abstinence. Hence we place no faith in his pledges.

THE Democrats who have been denouncing as bolters those who refuse to support "Tom" Henry will have to change their tactics when they read the article in this issue, from the Mayville Eagle, showing Henry up as a bolter of the worst order himself.

THE Democratic members of the Legislature of 1875-6 held a caucus to nominate a candidate for U. S. Senator. This is an office second to none but that of president in its importance, political, and yet Capt. Thomas Jefferson Henry, after going into the caucus, which resulted in the nomination of Hon. J. B. Beck, bolted and refused to vote for him. Mr. Beck is one of the ablest men the State has ever had, had at that time served several terms in the lower house of Congress, was regarded then as the best posted and ablest man in the State on National affairs, was nominated by the caucus, not as a result of bargains and sales and corrupt combinations, but upon his merits, and qualifications which were well known and understood, he was fairly and honorably chosen, and he not only had always conducted himself gently up to that date, but he continued to do so until he was elected and even until the present day, and has since been re-elected without opposition. Capt. Henry is growing because of a belief on the part of a great many that he is being persecuted without sufficient reason. There seems to be a relentless determination on the part of some, not only to destroy Henry, but also to make a breach in the history of the Democratic party in the State of Kentucky. It is a critical period in the history of the party, and it will result in the elimination of the false, leaving the remainder clear and pure. Principles, not men, are now striving for the mastery. I have no fear of the result. Unflatteringly the true Democrats of Ohio county will bear their standard—"full high advanced"—with the inscription, Henry and Victory.

W. B. HAYWARD.

WE have a high regard for Prof. Hayward, he is our warm, personal friend but it seems to us that a man living in a glass house has been for some time should be careful how he throws stones.

IS the opposition to Capt. Henry any more reckless than the Professor's opposition to Capt. Noe for Common-wealth's Attorney two years ago. Is it any more of a persecution? Will it make any greater breach in the history of the Democratic party now, than in 1880? Are those who got eliminated two years ago by opposing Joe Noe, any purer than those opposing Henry now? Are principles not men, striving for the mastery now, more than in 1880? To each question we emphatically say NO, not as much.

THE office of Commonwealth Attorney is of just as much political importance as a clerkship of a court.

Capt. Joe Noe got his nomination by a primary election, not a convention, he got it fairly, not by forming combinations and buying up his opponents.

While it is true that there are some Democrats in this county that will support Col. Jacob, it is apparent to us that there are a great many that will not vote for Capt. Henry. This condition that has brought about this condition of things is well known, and however much it is to be deplored, there is no use in any attempt of concealment, and unless Democrats go actively to work, our majority will be sadly reduced at the next election.—Shelby Sentinel.

Hon. E. D. Walker for Congress.

ELIZABETHTOWN, Ky., May 15th, 1882.

Editor Sunbeam:

Hon. E. D. Walker, of Hartsville, Ohio county, announced himself as a candidate for Congress to-day. He addressed an audience at the court house. He dwelt considerably upon the tariff question and upon the general topics of the day. He made a telling and logical speech in every particular, and made a deep impression upon the citizens of the county. Mr. Walker is a man of unimpeachable and inflexible character, and if elected will doubtless make us a model representative. He will no doubt carry this county.—Rodden in Litchfield Sunbeam.

IN an able and impressive manner, Hon. E. Dudley Walker, of Hartsville, Ohio county, candidate of this Congressional district, addressed a large number of persons at the court house today in an able and impressive manner, discussing the political issues of the times. If Knott does not enter the field he will doubtless carry the county by a large majority.—Elizabethtown Correspondence Courier-Journal.

Henry's History.

Col. Wallace Gruelle edited a paper for many years at Mt. Sterling, Ky., which is in the region of country where Capt. Henry lives, and is acquainted and familiar with Capt. Henry's history. In the News of last week he talks editorially as follows:

Capt. Henry is a man addicted to drunkenness and its kindred vices. His pluck of abstinence for the future is shown by the paper it is written upon the fact that, on three several occasions in the past, when an aspirant for position, he gave precisely the same thing to those whose votes and kind offices he desired, only to violate it after he had accomplished his object. He was, to start with, a confirmed drunkard. As an inducement to reformation, his friends, on his solemn assurance, "So help me God," that he would never again touch a drop of intoxicating liquor, made him Clerk of the Morgan Circuit Court. He behaved himself and attended industriously to the duties of his office during the first years of his term, and then relapsed into his old habits. Of course, under such circumstances, his reformation was not to be thought of. Under the persuasion of friends he agreed "to be reformed" and "reformed" until he was attacked with a desire to go to the Legislature. Here his "So help me God" pledge came into play again, and he was elected, only to suffer another relapse on his arrival at Frankfort, and to continue relapsing during almost the entire session. This pleases and relapsing and becoming notorious to the good people of Morgan, and his only hope for office lay outside of that county. Mat Adams was Clerk of the National House of Representatives, and to him he made application—accompanied by the everlasting "So help me God" pledge—for a position. Mat accepted of his request, and gave him a sub-clerkship, and here again he behaved himself for some time, but the inevitable relapse came and he had to give up the position. As we said last week, he has given us a taste of his quality as a candidate. A tree must be judged by its fruits, and the fruits of Capt. Henry's life clearly prove that he is incapable of keeping a pledge of total abstinence. Hence we place no faith in his pledges.

Hon. E. D. Walker Winning Golden Opinions.

LEBANON, Ky., May 15th, 1882.

Hon. E. D. Walker, of Ohio co., as a candidate for Congress Fourth District of Ky., addressed a large and enthusiastic number of our people, last Tuesday evening, the audience was very much pleased with his forcible arguments in behalf of the Democratic party, and his original jokes; he will be a very formidable candidate; he has made many friends in Lebanon, and Marion county.

Then and Now.

The Litchfield Sunbeam of last week contained the following card from Prof. W. B. Hayward on the Henry matter:—

Editor Sunbeam:

I write to say that in my opinion—and I think I know whereof I affirm—a very large majority of the Democrats of Ohio county, propose to abide by the decision of the Democratic Central Committee of Kentucky in the Henry matter and will most certainly support him for Clerk of the Court of Appeals. Do not be misled by any statements to the contrary. The feeling for Henry is growing because of a belief on the part of a great many that he is being persecuted without sufficient reason. There seems to be a relentless determination on the part of some, not only to destroy Henry, but also to make a breach in the history of the Democratic party in the State of Kentucky. It is a critical period in the history of the party, and it will result in the elimination of the false, leaving the remainder clear and pure. Principles, not men, are now striving for the mastery. I have no fear of the result. Unflatteringly the true Democrats of Ohio county will bear their standard—"full high advanced"—with the inscription, Henry and Victory.

W. B. HAYWARD.

WE have a high regard for Prof. Hayward, he is our warm, personal friend but it seems to us that a man living in a glass house has been for some time should be careful how he throws stones.

IS the opposition to Capt. Henry any more reckless than the Professor's opposition to Capt. Noe for Common-wealth's Attorney two years ago. Is it any more of a persecution? Will it make any greater breach in the history of the Democratic party now, than in 1880? Are those who got eliminated two years ago by opposing Joe Noe, any purer than those opposing Henry now? Are principles not men, striving for the mastery now, more than in 1880? To each question we emphatically say NO, not as much.

THE office of Commonwealth Attorney is of just as much political importance as a clerkship of a court.

Capt. Joe Noe got his nomination by a primary election, not a convention, he got it fairly, not by forming combinations and buying up his opponents.

While it is true that there are some Democrats in this county that will support Col. Jacob, it is apparent to us that there are a great many that will not vote for Capt. Henry. This condition that has brought about this condition of things is well known, and however much it is to be deplored, there is no use in any attempt of concealment, and unless Democrats go actively to work, our majority will be sadly reduced at the next election.—Shelby Sentinel.

Hon. E. D. Walker for Congress.

ELIZABETHTOWN, Ky., May 15th, 1882.

Editor Sunbeam:

Hon. E. D. Walker, of Hartsville, Ohio county, announced himself as a candidate for Congress to-day. He addressed an audience at the court house. He dwelt considerably upon the tariff question and upon the general topics of the day. He made a telling and logical speech in every particular, and made a deep impression upon the citizens of the county. Mr. Walker is a man of unimpeachable and inflexible character, and if elected will doubtless make us a model representative. He will no doubt carry this county.—Rodden in Litchfield Sunbeam.

IN an able and impressive manner, Hon. E. Dudley Walker, of Hartsville, Ohio county, candidate of this Congressional district, addressed a large number of persons at the court house today in an able and impressive manner, discussing the political issues of the times. If Knott does not enter the field he will doubtless carry the county by a large majority.—Elizabethtown Correspondence Courier-Journal.

Henry's History.

Col. Wallace Gruelle edited a paper for many years at Mt. Sterling, Ky., which is in the region of country where Capt. Henry lives, and is acquainted and familiar with Capt. Henry's history. In the News of last week he talks editorially as follows:

Capt. Henry is a man addicted to drunkenness and its kindred vices. His pluck of abstinence for the future is shown by the paper it is written upon the fact that, on three several occasions in the past, when an aspirant for position, he gave precisely the same thing to those whose votes and kind offices he desired, only to violate it after he had accomplished his object. He was, to start with, a confirmed drunkard. As an inducement to reformation, his friends, on his solemn assurance, "So help me God," that he would never again touch a drop of intoxicating liquor, made him Clerk of the Morgan Circuit Court. He behaved himself and attended industriously to the duties of his office during the first years of his term, and then relapsed into his old habits. Of course, under such circumstances, his reformation was not to be thought of. Under the persuasion of friends he agreed "to be reformed" and "reformed" until he was attacked with a desire to go to the Legislature. Here his "So help me God" pledge came into play again, and he was elected, only to suffer another relapse on his arrival at Frankfort, and to continue relapsing during almost the entire session. This pleases and relapsing and becoming notorious to the good people of Morgan, and his only hope for office lay outside of that county. Mat Adams was Clerk of the National House of Representatives, and to him he made application—accompanied by the everlasting "So help me God" pledge—for a position. Mat accepted of his request, and gave him a sub-clerkship, and here again he behaved himself for some time, but the inevitable relapse came and he had to give up the position. As we said last week, he has given us a taste of his quality as a candidate. A tree must be judged by its fruits, and the fruits of Capt. Henry's life clearly prove that he is incapable of keeping a pledge of total abstinence. Hence we place no faith in his pledges.

reprehensible. After Beck had triumphed over all filibustering disorganizing tactics of himself, Bowles and others, and had become the regularly and fairly nominated candidate of the Democratic party, Captain Henry saw it to signify and render conspicuous his animosity to Mr. Beck, and his revolt against the decision of the caucus by which he was pledged to abide, by refusing to vote for Mr. Beck. He was not alone in this repudiation of his obligations. If there was anything in Mr. Beck's personal character and habits, in his private conduct or public career and record to justify this action upon the part of Captain Henry and his associates, we would be the last to condemn or to reproach him for it—for we have always contended that, at the polls as in the Legislature and in Congress, every man must be responsible for his own vote, and he cannot screen himself behind the decision of a convention or a caucus from all that follows the placing by his vote an unworthy and disreputable man in a position of honor and trust. If there was any such ground for this repudiation of his pledge in case of James B. Beck, we are in ignorance of what it was. As it seems to us, it was only from spite that he could not accomplish his own ends, and had been fairly outvoted and outgeneraled. In either event, however, it hardly lies in the mouth of Capt. Henry or his friends, in view of such a record as that, and of his conduct in Louisville, to heap abuse upon such Democrats as, governed by their own convictions of what is due to themselves, to the community, and to the principles of public morality which ought to obtain, even though they have been shamelessly held at naught in the past, may choose to raise his name from their tickets in August.—Mayville Eagle.

Woodward's Valley.

May 13th, 1882.

Editor Herald:

The farmers are about done planting corn and are planting a larger acreage this spring than common. We want to see more to eat than we have had for the last few months. There will be about half a crop of tobacco planted in this neighborhood if the boys will cease their ravages. Some of the farmers haven't any plants, and will have to plant the ground in corn. The wheat crop is very promising here and if some misfortune did not befall it, there will be plenty for home consumption, and some to spare.

I forgot to mention the fact that Mr. John Howley got snake bit on the seventh inst., he was passing through the barn-yard, about dusk, when it occurred. He is convalescing slowly at this writing.

The Democrats of the Valley are a unit to the county ticket, but cannot say that much for Capt. Henry. We are Democrats from principle and will not surrender honor and principle for Mr. Henry, nor anyone else, nor can we consistently support Col. Jacob, so you see we won't vote for the Clerk of the Court of Appeals.

I wish the HERALD greater circulation than ever before.

A SUBSCRIBER.

Caneyville News.

Caneyville, Ky., May 15th, 1882.

Editor Herald:

Our town is quiet, business good, some sickness.

Mrs. Tom Bond, who has been quite sick, is much better; Mrs. C. F. Kennedy is also better; Mr. Frank Kennedy is not expected to live, he has been ill 61 odd days.

Quite a lively time here yesterday, as the engine and the railroad was changed, all the people from the country collected along the line to see the work.

We are all for Walker for Congress. We are sorry you left Capt. Henry's name out of the list of candidates, as we expect to elect him so says W. B. Hayward; and I think we should look over him a bit more in August.

I will spend a few days in Hartford next week. Respt., W. H. Barnes.

Can't Get It.

Diabetes, Bright's Disease, Kidney, Urinary or Liver complaints cannot be contracted by you or your family if Hop Bitters are used, and if you already have any of these diseases Hop Bitters is the only medicine that will positively cure you. Don't forget this, and don't get some puffed up stuff that will only harm you.

Barbecue.

Hardin Ashley will open the barbecue season on Saturday, May 27th, 1882, at his farm on the Hartford and Hawesville road. He will have a good dinner for twenty-five cents. The candidates will be present and speak.

Prices Reduced.

Prints, 4 cents per yard; lawns 4 cents per yard; quilt lining, 4 cents per yard; jeans, 15 cents per yard; cottonades, 12 cents per yard; shirtings, best 12 cents per yard; brown cotton, 8 cents per yard; broad goods, $1.00 per pair; men's saddles $4.75; wagon hames, $4.50; and all other things in proportion at 25-30.

Look.

I. H. Edson's for groceries and furniture. I will sell from this on cheaper than the cheapest. Be convinced by calling next door to Z. Wayne Griffin & Bro's drug store.

For Sale. Cheap.

A bay horse, will work any place you put him. Apply at the Red Front.

Ho For the Races.

For the benefit of those who wish to attend the races at Louisville May 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26 and 27—the Chesapeake, Ohio and Northwestern Railroad Company will run two excursion trains to Louisville; leaving Beaver Dam at 4:25 p. m. on Monday and Tuesday, May 22 and 24. Tickets will be good to return on all regular passenger trains until Sunday, May 28, inclusive. Fare for the round trip $5.25. B. J. HORTON, G. P. A.

Master Commissioner's Notice.

OHIO CIRCUIT COURT.

Humphrey Brooks' adm., Pff.,) against)

All persons having claims against the estate of Humphrey Brooks, deceased, are hereby notified to produce the same, properly proven, to the undersigned, Master Commissioner of said court, at his office in Hartford, Ky., on or before May 1, 1882, or they will be forever barred.

Mary Taylor's adm., Pff.,) against)

All persons having claims against the estate of Mary Taylor, deceased, are hereby notified to produce the same, properly proven, to the undersigned, Master Commissioner of said court, at his office in Hartford, Ky., on or before May 1, 1882, or they will be forever barred.

C. W. Stevens' adm., Pff.,) against)

All persons having claims against the estate of C. W. Stevens, deceased, are hereby notified to produce the same, properly proven, to the undersigned, Master Commissioner of said court, at his office in Hartford, Ky., on or before May 1, 1882, or they will be forever barred.

John R. Nichols vs. S. J. Fieldsals,)

John R. Nichols vs. S. J. Fieldsals,)

John R. Nichols vs. S. J. Fieldsals,)

John R. Nichols vs. S. J. Fieldsals,)

John R. Nichols vs. S. J. Fieldsals,)

John R. Nichols vs. S. J. Fieldsals,)

John R. Nichols vs. S. J. Fieldsals,)

John R. Nichols vs. S. J. Fieldsals,)

John R. Nichols vs. S. J. Fieldsals,)

John R. Nichols vs. S. J. Fieldsals,)

John R. Nichols vs. S. J. Fieldsals,)

John R. Nichols vs. S. J. Fieldsals,)

John R. Nichols vs. S. J. Fieldsals,)

John R. Nichols vs. S. J. Fieldsals,)

John R. Nichols vs. S. J. Fieldsals,)

John R. Nichols vs. S. J. Fieldsals,)

John R. Nichols vs. S. J. Fieldsals,)

John R. Nichols vs. S. J. Fieldsals,)

John R. Nichols vs. S. J. Fieldsals,)

John R. Nichols vs. S. J. Fieldsals,)

John R. Nichols vs. S. J. Fieldsals,)

John R. Nichols vs. S. J. Fieldsals,)

OUR AGENTS.

The following persons are authorized to receive subscriptions and renewals, advertising in the HERALD, orders for job work, etc., etc.:

JOHN T. MARTIN, Rosine.
WILL COOPER, Cincinnati.
DR. V. M. TAYLOR, McHenry.
DAVID ROGERS, Buford.
JNO. T. SMITH, Jr., Fordsville.
JAS. E. SUTTON, Magan.
S. P. BENNETT, Ceralvo.
J. E. BEAN, Sulphur Springs.
DR. G. R. SANDERS, Centertown.
JNO. T. NEAL, Caneyville.
T. J. BUSCH, Morgantown.
WILLIAM MAY, Haynesville.
E. P. NEAL, Sutton.
T. C. FLOYD, Whitesville.
R. B. CULBERTSON, Rockport, Ky.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

For Congress.

We are authorized to announce Hon. THOS. A. ROBERTSON, of Larc county, as a candidate for Congress in the Fourth Congressional District, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

JUDGE SAMUEL GRAY of Nelson county, announces to announce that he is a candidate for Congress in the fourth district subject to the action of the Democratic party.

For Judge of the Superior Court.
We are authorized to announce that JUDGE J. M. BIGGER, of Paducah, is a candidate for Judge of the Superior Court, subject to the action of the Democratic party, election August 7th, 1882.

For Assessor.
THOMAS R. BISHOP, of Centertown, announces to announce that he is a candidate for the office of Assessor of Ohio County, election August 7th, 1882.

For County Clerk.
E. R. MURRELL, of Whitesville, announces to announce that he is a candidate for the office of County Clerk of Ohio county, election August 7th, 1882.

L. T. COX, of Rosine, is a candidate for Clerk of the Ohio County Court, subject to the will of the people at the polls. Election, August 7th, 1882.

For County Attorney.
C. M. PENDLETON is a candidate for County Attorney at the August election, 1882.

For Constable.
We are authorized to announce that DAVID W. WAKELAND is a Democratic candidate for Constable in the Centertown Magisterial precinct composed of the voting precincts of Centertown, Rockport and Cool Springs. Election August 7th, 1882.

PERSONAL.

Mr. E. C. Hubbard is sick at his residence on Union Street.

Mr. W. H. Williams is visiting friends in Calhoun and Owensboro.

Mr. Chapman Crow, after an illness of several days, is out again.

Miss Lucy Miller, living near Cromwell, is visiting Miss Josie Duke.

Mr. J. W. Ford has been sick for several days past, but is about well again.

Mrs. Elizabeth Short, of Falls of Rough, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Dr. Miller.

Mrs. M. A. Jarboe and daughter, Miss Alice, have been ill for a week past, but are improving.

Wills Short, of Falls of Rough, reached here with a raft of lumber for Dr. Jo. T. Miller.

Mr. Willard F. Condit, of McLean county, was in town during the week visiting relatives and friends.

Mr. Harvey Condit has been quite sick for a week or ten days with some kind of fever, probably typhoid.

Mr. Joseph A. Higdon, of Owensboro, has accepted a position as clerk in W. J. Norris' saloon and restaurant.

Mr. M. W. Warden, who resigned the office of Deputy Marshal, a week or so ago, has accepted the office again.

Mrs. W. C. Edmonson, of Nortonville, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jo B. Sandefur, near Beaver Dam.

Mr. C. T. Sutton, the Junior editor of this paper, who has been quite sick for ten or twelve days past is about well again.

Mrs. George Klein returned home from South Carrollton last week where she had been to attend the wedding of her niece.

Prof. Bennett, of Hartford, visited our school last week. Hope he will call again; we are always glad to see visitors.—Muhlenberg Echo.

Mr. Eli Baaham passed here last Sunday with a boat load of staves bound for Livmore. He made the run from Hines' Mill here in 12 hours.

Mrs. A. L. Morton, who was summoned to the bedside of her mother in Harlan county several weeks ago, returned home Monday evening. Her mother died last week.

Hon. H. D. McHenry, Sam K. Cox, Dr. Sam B. Berry, Dr. J. S. Morton, Z. Wayne Griffin and E. M. Rosenberg, of this place, were among those leaving Monday to attend the Louisville races.

Mrs. Hon. R. B. Pierce, of Cloverport, and Mrs. Dr. S. S. Watkins, of Owensboro, were visiting their sister, Mrs. Lacy H. Eldon, of this place. Mrs. Watkins returned home last Saturday and Mrs. Pierce is still here.

Rev. J. S. McDaniel, of Canmer, Hart county, formerly pastor of M. E. Church at this place, is visiting his daughter, Mrs. Clarence Hardwick. He lectured to the Methodist Sunday-school on Sunday morning, which was highly spoken of.

Willie Taylor, son of Dr. J. H. Taylor, of Owensboro, is visiting the family of Judge R. S. Moseley.

Our young friend, J. H. Weller, Esq., left Monday evening for Harlan county, where on yesterday he was married to Miss Minnie Lewis. He was accompanied by Messrs. Chas. M. Pendleton and James H. Anderson. Mr. Weller will return with his bride to-day.

New goods at Anderson's Bazaar next week.

Mrs. Kinch Morton, of Horton, is very sick with pneumonia fever.

Goods at and below cost, at Rogers & King's, Buford, Ky.

Remember Anderson's Bazaar next week. The prices will open your eyes.

Many thanks to little Verda Duke for her delicious treat; the first strawberries of the season.

Everything at Anderson's Bazaar placed at prices to catch the Circuit Court trade next week.

All parties owing Rogers & King will come forward at once and settle, and much oblige Rogers & King. 20-3t

We haven't space to tell you of all the bargains to be at Anderson's Bazaar next week. You must go and see for yourself.

Born, to the wife of John C. Westcott, living in the vicinity of Cromwell, Monday, May 15th, 1882, a son, Edith.

While we have had rain around here, it seems from a notice in this issue that they had "Edith" down at Chapel Hill, Tenn.

Willie Ellis and Moses Hudson sent us a large log, Monday evening, for our museum. It is very large and has large fenders or horns.

W. T. Patterson, of Point Pleasant, has located at Dallas, Texas, for the next twelve months. The HERALD wishes him success in his new location.

Born, to the wife of Dr. N. J. Rains, of Chapel Hill, Tennessee, May 11th, 1882, a son, ten pounds, mother doing well, father supremely happy.

We learn from the Owensboro Messenger that Mrs. Verda Nell and her son Willie have left Owensboro to locate in Orlando, Florida. They were formerly residents of Hartford.

Rev. A. B. Smith of McHenry has preached two sermons at West Providence church, recently, for the benefit of the young. We hear the sermons very highly complimented.

Rev. E. H. Maddox agent to collect money with which to build a Baptist church in Hartford, is meeting with some encouragement. He secured $16 at West Providence church last Sunday evening from a small audience.

Thousands of ladies have found sudden relief from all their woes by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, the great remedy for diseases peculiar to females. Send for Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, 233 Western Avenue, Lynn, Mass., for pamphlets.

Mrs. Hocker wife of John Hocker, and daughter of Wm. Austin, living near Beaver Dam, died Monday night of Consumption. Her funeral will be preached to-day at the residence of her father, by Rev. G. J. Bean, after which will be interred in the family graveyard.

Wm. T. Bratcher, living near Riley's Station, was riding along the road in broad daylight, when two masked men rushed from the woods, and knocking him off of his horse, robbed him of $150 which was all the money he had. Mr. Bratcher is recovering. No clue is had of the robbers as they were masked, and Mr. Bratcher was knocked senseless.

Major James B. Harrison and Miss Fannie Ridd, were married in Evansville last week. Major Harrison is a son of J. J. Harrison deceased, a former lawyer of this bar, and at one time County Judge of this county. Major Harrison's boyhood days, at least some of them, were spent here and he has a host of friends who join in the wish that he may enjoy the matrimonial state.

We will say once, which is the one thousandth time we have said the same, that we will not publish a communication unless the writer furnishes us his or her real name. Any assumed name desired can be given for publication, but we require the true name as it matters of good faith, and a protection if it should turn out that the communication is untrue, or does somebody some injustice.

Thanks to Rev. G. W. Lyon, of Elizabethtown, for a copy of "The Little Gem," comprising a cook-book and business directory of Southern Kentucky. It is truly a "little gem," and is cheap at the price, 25 cents per copy.

Mr. Z. Wayne Griffin, of this place, is agent for it and gives his commission for selling it to the Methodist Church here. Go at once and get a "little gem" and benefit by the information contained therein and help on the church.

Mr. T. J. Roll of Paradise is a long winded, energetic, untiring man. He started in on a Fox chase about four years ago, and kept on the trail, never giving up the chase until last Wednesday night, when he captured the said Fox. It is of neither the gray or red Fox species, but a White Fox. Mr. Roll proposes to keep it and make a pet of it. So long had he been in the chase, and so often had the Fox seen him, that it was quite gentle when captured.

—Parties intending to purchase Reapers, Mowing Machines and Hay-rakes will do well to see me before buying and save money.

DAN F. TRACY.

—Speaking at the Court House next Monday, May 22, first day of Circuit Court, by Col. R. T. Jacob, Col. J. H. McHenry, Maj. W. R. Kinney, and Col. Marc Monday.

Capt. T. J. Henry has been invited and is expected. Come out everybody.

—Next week will be bargain week at Anderson's Bazaar.

—Dr. Jo T. Miller will begin the erection of a dwelling on Union street, in a few days.

—Jeans and cottons made five cents under price next week at Anderson's Bazaar.

—Highest price paid for wool and all kinds of country produce, at Rogers & King's, Buford, Ky.

—Mr. Wm. Hamilton, generally called "Cub" Hamilton, died last Friday night, of dropsy. He lived near Magan.

—The 3d Quarterly Meeting of Hartford circuit M. E. Church South, will be held at Mt. Vernon Church, May 20th and 21st, 1882. T. S. DUKE, Sec.

—Thomas Gilstrap, of Cromwell, has christened his new building, Exchange Emporium. He will exchange all kinds of goods for cash, or country produce.

—Dr. Beeler, the dentist, is on his way back from the South, and will be back in Hartford within the next week prepared to do any work in his profession that may be needed.

—Our old time friend, D. H. French, of LaGrange, Ky., will accept the thanks of this office (until something more substantial is tendered), for favors received from him recently.

—The Progress says that Worth Smith had several acres of tobacco planted by the sixth inst. Worth is a former citizen of this county, and is one of the working men of McLean county.

—Those who suffer from an enfeebled and disordered state of the system, should take Ayer's Sarsaparilla and cleanse the blood. Purge out the lurking distemper that undermines health, and the constitutional vigor will return.

—We understand that several of the family of Widow Mitchell of Bartlett's Precinct are very sick and have been for some time, one daughter and one son are very low, and are not expected to recover.

—Those attending Circuit Court next week, are invited to visit the tontorial palace of Henry Pace, where they can get a smooth shave, shampoo, hair-cut in the most improved style of the art, or any other service in his line. Give him a call.

—Ayer's Hair Vigor restores the color and stimulates the growth of the hair, prevents it from falling off, and greatly increases its beauty. It has a delicate and lasting perfume, its ingredients are harmless, and for the toilet it is unequalled.

—Capt. W. H. Sandusky and wife, will please accept the cordial thanks of ourself and coram spoon, for the delicious strawberries. Their enormous size surpassing anything of the season, while their exquisite delicacy of taste was all that the daintiest epicurean could wish. Thanks again.

—A. L. Morton, former Circuit Court Clerk, sold his dwelling and lot to Mr. Clarence Hardwick, the present clerk, for $175. This is very desirable property, and while we regret to lose Mr. Morton and family, we congratulate Mr. Hardwick upon his good taste in this purchase.

—An appeal is being made to establish a new voting precinct at Magan's to be composed of parts of Fordville and Bartlett's precincts. It will be a great convenience to a large number of voters, and should be established. The matter will come up at the June term of the Ohio Circuit Court.

—Our friend Z. A. Rosenberg, the popular clothier, has got back home, we mean to his old stand on the "corner," and looks happier for the change. He has a new sign erected, and by the way, one of the neatest in town. Of course it was painted by "Uncle Tom" Hill.

—Died—In Medicine Lodge, Kansas, May 24, 1882, of cholera infantum, Julius Laetus Little, infant son of A. W. and Ida May Little. Little Julius was born here June 12th, 1881, and was a grandson of Rev. J. S. McDaniel, our former pastor of the M. E. Church South. The parents have our sympathy in this their sad bereavement.

—If you want pure and unadulterated drinks of any and all kinds, that will exhilarate, but not inebriate, go to Alfred T. Nall's saloon, next door to Rowe's Emporium, and he will serve you. During court he will have nice lunches, sandwiches, etc., for his customers. A fine line of cigars and tobacco on hand.

—Mr. I. R. Withrow, of Equality neighborhood, died very suddenly last Wednesday of neuralgia of the heart. He had been sick, but seemed much better and was up and about. His funeral was preached on Thursday at Equality church by Rev. Tol. Iglehart, who delivered a very able and impressive sermon, after which the remains were interred in the graveyard on the John Reid farm.

—Parties intending to purchase Reapers, Mowing Machines and Hay-rakes will do well to see me before buying and save money.

DAN F. TRACY.

—Remember you are not asked to take our word for it, that Anderson's Bazaar is the cheapest place to buy goods, but just drop in and see for yourself, ask them to show you their cottons at seventeen cents, and those all linen table cloths, six feet long at fifty cents, and the all linen towels at ten cents, and the dollar and fifteen cent shoes worth one dollar and a half, and the all wool cashmere in all colors at forty-five cents, that is dress goods at twenty-five cents that is all wool filling and all wool chain, and all other bargains, and if you don't find our words to be true, why then you needn't to buy, that's all.

—Go to Thomas Bro's for bargains in saddles and harness.

—Remember there'll be fun at Anderson's Bazaar next week.

—Don't fail to get your share of the bargains at Anderson's Bazaar next week.

—For the cheapest and best hand-made saddles and harness, go to T. S. Duke's, next door to Hartford House.

—Reports from various sources give accounts of fearful ravages by the army worm on the meadows and wheat crop.

—Mr. J. Edwin Rowe, is erecting a nice frame dwelling on Union street, near the residence of Judge R. S. Moseley.

—Persons attending Circuit Court next week are invited to call and purchase their groceries and furniture of L. H. Eldon.

—Born, to the wife of Foster Adams, McHenry, Ky., May 9th, 1882, a son—weight 7½ pounds, mother doing well, and "dad" is awful happy.

—The folks at "Gasburg" are taking steps to get a post office. We trust they will succeed, as it would be a great convenience for them.

—Mr. Peyton Taylor, of Bartlett's, who has been very sick for a long while, is thought to be much better and is in a fair way to recover.

—Having used T. E. Richey's pills I endorse them as a sure cure, and mild and pleasant.

A. M. ALLSHOOK, M. D.

—Mrs. S. J. Richardson, of Buford, has been visiting her father, Judge Ben Newton, during the past week. She and Miss Chinn visited the HERALD office Saturday.

—Anderson's Bazaar has an immense lot of bargains on the way, and will open them especially for Circuit Court trade. Don't fail to call at the Bazaar when you come to court.

—We learn that Mr. F. Fount Smith, of Bartlett's precinct, is quite low with some kind of fever, has been sick about ten days, and fears are entertained that he will not recover.

—Mr. A. G. Rowe and Miss Nellie Rutherford, of Spring Lake, were married in the afternoon of last week, and will return home in a few weeks. They have the hearty congratulations of the HERALD.

—Mr. Alexander Andrews, living on the Rochester road a few miles South of Beaver Dam, is quite sick with some kind of bronchial trouble and not expected to live.

—Mr. J. W. Lankford was elected Police Judge, of Hamilton, and P. M. Brown, Marshal of Hamilton, at the recent election. They gave the necessary bonds, and took the proper oaths last Saturday, and are now regularly prepared for business.

—Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, 233 Western Avenue, Lynn, Mass., is rapidly acquiring an enviable reputation for the surprising cures which daily result from the use of her Vegetable Compound in all female diseases. Send to her for pamphlets.

—We are sorry to learn of the death of William Eldon, which took place at the home of his widowed mother in Hartford, Friday last, after a few days illness. Will was well known to the citizens of Calhoun and vicinity.—McLean County Progress.

—The rains for the past ten days have swelled the streams considerably. Rough creek has been quite high and boats and rafts have been passing down. A large portion of bottom lands have been overflowed and corn ruined in some instances and materially damaged in others.

—The Rumsey Woolen Mills, after having suspended for sometime, have resumed work. We have a large stock of all kinds of woolen goods on hand and capacity to make goods in quantities to supply all demands. We want a large quantity of wool, for which the market price will be paid.

JAS. CATE.

—Mr. Jesse Morris dropped dead last Thursday. He lived near Pellville, Hancock county, and was working the road at the time he died. He leaves a wife and several children. He was about thirty-five years old. We did not learn the cause of his death, but suppose it was an apoplectic trouble.

—Next Monday will be Circuit Court. Persons attending the same are invited to visit our office, and if not already a subscriber, to become one, and if you are a subscriber and haven't renewed to the end of the year do so and participate in our big gift distribution. Also bring us all the news from your neighborhood.

—Time speeds away, away, away. So the good old song doth say, and you should have a monitor to warn you how rapidly it is speeding away. Thomas & Kimbley have a large assortment of good clocks, day clocks, eight-day clocks and alarm clocks, all good time keepers, which they are selling as low as it is possible to sell them. Go and buy one for your family or office.

—Mr. W. T. King, of the Hartford House, has bought the brick house known as the Jerome Wells property on market street, and is converting the same into a family residence. Mr. Alfred Hurd is superintending the work. Mr. King will vacate the Hartford House, July 1st, and move into his new residence, and will be succeeded by R. R. Paxton as proprietor of the hotel.

—R. P. Rowe, at his new store on Market street, is still doing an immense trade. He has a stock of general merchandise unsurpassed by any in the Green River country, and sells at prices as low as the lowest and as cheap as the cheapest. His stock presents a greater variety to select from than any stock found outside of the cities. He keeps almost anything you want. When you come to court next week visit this new and elegant store, and our word for it, you will thank us for advising you to do so.

—Sixty pounds of washed wool will buy a first class sewing machine, at Anderson's Bazaar.

We would advise our farmers who have wool to sell, not to fail to pick out the burs before taking it to market, as hurry wool is bringing extremely low figures.

—You cannot be punctual in business engagements, or regular in habits without a good time-keeper. The same can be found at Thomas & Kimbley's at a very low price.

—By a recent arrangement with the mills, Anderson's Bazaar will hereafter be enabled to sell jeans at a reduction of five cents on the yard when exchanged for wool, the highest market price always being paid for wool.

—Strayed from Elm Lick about two weeks ago, one bay horse about 6 years old, long tail. Information given of the above described horse will be thankfully received. E. C. HUBBARD, Hartford, Ky.

—Thomas & Kimbley keep constantly on hand Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, Richey's Anti-bilious Pills and Warner's Safe Remedies. These medicines are the best known remedies for the various diseases for which they are recommended, and a trial of either of them will prove the fact.

—Died, at the residence of William Baltzell, near Hartford, May 8th, 1882, Newton Stevens, colored, aged about eighty years. In the time of slavery he belonged first to the Monroe family, but afterwards was sold to John Stevens, now deceased. He was an honest, industrious man.

—Spring time has come, gentle Annie, and with it a desire to paint up the house and varnish the furniture. Thomas & Kimbley keep a lot of the best mixed paints on hand, also prepared varnish, both ready for the painter's brush. Go there and get the goods prepared properly and as cheap as you can get the ingredients elsewhere and saving time.

—Died, at her home near Liberty church, May 5th, 1882, Mrs. Susan Hooker. Deceased was a daughter of Ignatius Burnett and widow of Ashery Hooker, deceased, and mother of Hon. R. P. Hocker, who is her oldest child. She was a devout christian, a kind mother, a good neighbor and a woman almost universally loved by all her acquaintances. Her funeral was preached by Rev. R. C. Alexander and G. J. Bean on the 6th inst., after which the remains were interred in the cemetery at Liberty church.

Stray Hogs.

Taken up as stray by Sam M. Pearly, living on the Hartford and Point Pleasant road, near Point Pleasant, in Ohio county, on the 5th inst., four hogs aged about 18 months and marked with crop and hole in each right ear and an upper bit in each left ear, and which I have appraised at $16. Witness my hand this 25th day of April, 1882. W. L. ROWE, J. P. O. C.

Willoughby Read.

This profound scholar, and eloquentist, appeared before a delighted audience at the College Hall last week. He has the rare but happy gift of controlling his hearers. While rendering several of his pathetic pieces "Karl the blacksmith," and "Asleep at the switch," we followed him along until in fancy they were passing before us, and from many pensive faces could be seen the tears slowly chasing each other down when almost instantly could be seen gleams of sunshine at the mere mention of a selection from "Mark Twain," or some other humorous writer, and the scene would change to one of bright faces and uncontrollable laughter. The pleasure of the evening was greatly heightened by the announcement of Professor Reade's reappearance soon which will be hailed with delight. Come again, and we will show our appreciation by our presence.

Answer This.

Can you find a cure of Bright's Disease, Kidney Disease, Urinary or Liver complaints that is curable, that Hop Bitters has not or cannot cure? Ask your neighbors if they can.

Log Teams Wanted.

I want to hire five teams, log wagons, and drivers to haul logs. I will give good wages, pay cash, and constant employment for the right kind of drivers, teams and wagons.

JOHN BERGER, Beaver Dam, Ky.

Exchange Emporium.

Mr. Thomas Gilstrap, of Cromwell, has just completed a large two story frame store house 28 by 80 feet and has christened it Exchange Emporium. He is moving into the same this week, where he will be pleased to see those wanting anything in the way of dry goods, dress goods, notions, clothing, boots and shoes, hats and caps or any article kept in a first-class retail store. All kinds of country produce taken in exchange, for which the highest market value will be paid. Mr. Gilstrap, by economy, industry and a close application to business, has won an enviable reputation as a merchant for honesty and fair dealing. When you go to Cromwell don't fail to visit his Emporium, and we are sure you will purchase something.

Red Front Items.

Nicest line of cigars in town, with "Guy's Favorite" in the lead. Try one and you will smoke no other.

Fresh roasted peanuts constantly on hand.

Oranges, lemons, bananas and apples. Cheese, sausage, cakes and cider, during Circuit Court.

A nice lunch. Cheap.

Headquarters for flour, meal, ship-stuff, bacon, lard, hams, potatoes, salt, lime and pure pine tar.

Currants, prunes, raisins, rice, starch, dried apples, dried peaches, soup beans, hominy, etc.

The best 12 coffee in town.

Pumpkin seeds for sale.

A CRIMINAL THROUGH LOVE.

A Superb New Novel.

To be published by Nelly Marshall McAfee, in serial form, comprising twenty parts, to be issued semi-monthly. Twenty cents per number, payable on delivery. All wishing to subscribe can address, NELLY MARSHALL MCAFEE, Publisher, 914 W. Jefferson Street, Louisville, Ky.

Strayed.

Strayed from Hartford, Ky., Saturday evening, May 13, a light iron gray horse about five years old with a thin dark mane and tail, about fifteen hands high. When last heard of he was about two miles below Hartford making his way towards Green River. A satisfactory reward will be paid upon his recovery or any information concerning him. H. P. TAYLOR, 20-4t.

Kittinger-Lawton.

Married, in the M. E. church at South Carrollton, Wednesday evening, May 10th, at early candle-light, by Rev. B. F. Swindler, Mr. Geo. D. Kittinger and Miss Sallie Lawton, both of South Carrollton. They were attended by Misses Sallie and Genie Klein, of Hartford, little daughters of Mr. Geo. Klein and cousins to the bride. The occasion is spoken of as being one of great pleasure.

Death of Will H. Eldon.

Will Eldon, well-known in this city, where he formerly resided, died in Hartford last Friday evening. He was sick only a few days, his fatal sickness being meningitis. He was a young man of good business qualifications and habits, genial in manner and kind-hearted in every act. His funeral was largely attended, the services being conducted by Rev. R. C. Alexander, of the Methodist church.—Owensboro Post.

Resolutions of Respect in Memory of Hon. John Chapeze.

At a meeting of the members of the Hartford Bar and the officers of the Ohio Circuit Court, held in the court house in Hartford, Ky., on the 10th day of May, 1882, for the purpose of taking such action as they should deem proper in respect for their deceased professional brother and associate, Hon. John Chapeze. On motion of Judge W. F. Gregory Hon. H. D. McHenry was chosen Chairman of the meeting, who, upon taking the chair, delivered a brief history and a few of the characteristic virtues of the deceased; after which, upon motion of John H. Weller, Esq., J. Edwin Rowe was selected Secretary of the meeting.

Messrs. W. F. Gregory, J. E. Fogle and S. E. Hill were appointed by the Chairman a committee on resolutions, who retired and reported for adoption the following resolutions, viz:

WHEREAS, We have heard with sorrow and regret of the sudden and unexpected death of our professional brother and associate, John Chapeze, Esq., which occurred at his residence in this town at about 11 o'clock p. m. yesterday;

AND WHEREAS, It is right and proper and in full accord with our feelings that we should take such action with reference to his death as will testify to our own sincere regret for his loss and perpetuate his memory. Therefore be it

Resolved, That it is the sense of the Hartford Bar that in the death of Mr. Chapeze our brotherhood has lost one of its most industrious and incorruptible members; one whose love for the history and literature of his profession was constantly exemplified in his practice, and was only excelled by his devotion to his wife and children for whose comfort and happiness he always manifested, in his characteristically unobtrusive manner, the greatest concern.

Resolved, That we tender to the bereaved family of our deceased brother our warmest sympathy and friendship.

Resolved, That these resolutions be furnished the Hartford HERALD for publication; that they be spread on the records of our Circuit Court, and that a copy be furnished the family of the deceased.

After touching and appropriate remarks by Messrs. C. W. Massie, S. E. Hill, W. F. Gregory, E. C. Hubbard, G. C. Weddell, J. P. Sandefur, J. E. Fogle, John H. Weller and others, the resolutions were unanimously adopted.

